Messrs. J. E. Brown & Co. have obtained the privilege of erecting a kiosk at Emma Square for dispensing light refreshments during band concerts.

A new and comical musical instrument that can be played by anyone is for sale by Ed. Hoffschlaeger & Co. It must be something like a newspaper.

The Inspector-General has completed the inspection of the Royal school. Seven days were occupied in "doing" that large and important institution.

Mr. Horn is offering the community royal staff of life in the shape of Emperor Francis Joseph buns. Everybody can now get a taste of living like an emperor.

The Portuguese prisoner from Makawao that gave the slip to the officers on the Likiep wharf on Sunday week, was taken Sunday evening at Kaneohe.

Port Surveyor George Markham and his officers made a seizure of ten tins of opium without an owner, between decks forward on the bark Lady Lampson on the 24 inst.

The Government school at Marysville was officially inspected Wednesday. The school is conducted by Miss Isabella Lishman and attended by some thirty-four pupils, all Portuguese.

Mr. Thomas J. King has presented the Myrtle Best Club with a grand piano, the make of Hallett & Cumston, Boston. It is a nice acquisition to the furnishing of the club's reception hall.

The football match arranged for between the St. Louis College boys and the Royal School boys did not come off on Saturday, owing, as a St. Louis boy says, to the Royals, the challenging party at that, backing out.

It is reported from the S. S. Zealandia that the S. S. Maroon will be put on the Australian mail route again, when the S. S. Zealandia will be put on the Honolulu service in conjunction with the S. S. Australia.

For an assorted case of their excellent temperance beverages, Messrs. J. E. Brown & Co. have the hearty thanks of the GAZETTE staff. The hop beer is an acquisition to the list of such drinks that must gain in popularity.

Mr. J. R. Mills, Honolulu, sends the following report of the rainfall registered at his store for three days: March 31st, 1.45 inches; April 1st, 3.81 inches; 2d, 0.47 inches; total, eleven and seventy-three hundredths inches for the three days.

Mr. W. T. Lucas, formerly principal of the Government school, at Lihue, Kauai, is expected back from the States by the Mariposa on the 11th or 12th inst. He has been engaged by the Board of Education to resume his principalship at Lihue.

Capt. Hopkins, on Tuesday evening, arrested a native lad named Halekaka, having in his possession the booty, in the shape of jewelry, etc., of several recent robberies. A couple of finger rings of unknown ownership are among the property.

The sailors on board the brigantine Consuelo, beyond Diamond Head on Thursday night, when they saw the glare in the sky from the electric light, took it that the city was on fire, and expected to find, on arrival, a wild waste of smoking ruins.

Six Chinese were arrested at 2 a. m., Sunday morning, for gaming. Fifteen minutes later a cabman was hauled in for violating carriage regulations. About mid-day, John Nicolas alias Muumuu was arrested for selling spirituous liquors without licence, and twenty bottles of beer were brought in to give evidence in the case. The latest arrived up to 1:20 a. m. Monday, at Kalakaua Hale, was a dealer in threatening language.

Mr. F. Horn wishes the public to know that he charges less for his rich, finest flavored, artistic and delicately ornamented wedding cake, than other establishments in Honolulu charge for a poor imitation of wedding cakes.

Material for a large new school-house at Kailua, Hawaii, was shipped by the W. G. Hall on Tuesday. A smaller school edifice has been completed at Hookea, Kona, the same district. Mr. P. A. Anderson has charge of the building operations.

The old rule was "last in bed put out the light." In the case of the man in the lightning factory away up the Valley, who with a turn of the wrist puts an extinguisher simultaneously on the two or three scores of lamps for miles around him, the earning of the distinction depends on when the moon rises.

Mr. F. Horn, the masterly confectioner, had a large and beautiful wedding cake on exhibition in his store window on Wednesday. The cake is well proportioned and symmetrical. The ornamentation is elaborate and tasteful, consisting of delicate sugar lace work, sugar roses and silver leaves.

The Australia passenger list contains the names of Captain C. W. Schoonmaker and Lieutenant Hannum, of the United States Navy. The Captain takes the place of Captain Howison of the Vandalia, the latter being under orders to return home and report. Mr. Hannum also joins the Vandalia.

Mr. T. R. Walker, who returned home Tuesday, is reported in the Chronicle to have spent a considerable time in Canada and the Northwest, "and he says the progress visible since he was there a few years ago is something remarkable, and he predicts a great future for Manitoba and the Canadian Pacific line."

A native, more or less obfuscated with strong drink, staggered over the Inter-island wharf on Saturday night week escaping a watery grave by the prompt action of the watchman, Albert Hermanson, who picked him up and sent him off up town in probably a more sober but not so dry a condition as when he came down.

The U. S. S. Trenton is expected in San Francisco in three months, via the Hawaiian Islands, where Admiral Kimberley is expected to transfer his flag from the Vandalia to the Trenton. It is probable that the Thetis, now under orders to fit out, will convey the American Commissioner and exhibit to the Australian Centennial Exposition.

"Young writers," says the Somerville, Mass., Journal, "in preparing their manuscripts for the press, ought to leave plenty space between the lines. The word would not suffer much if many of them would make it all space." The Massachusetts man must have been reading marked copies of the Honolulu Bulletin and Advertiser.

There was something "new under the sun"—no, under the moon—Tuesday night. The postoffice boxes were brilliantly lighted outside, so that other than Blue Ribbon citizens could see their boxes and read their papers and correspondence with ocular comfort under the big veranda. The electric light is certainly a most brilliant success at the postoffice.

The postoffice contingent made quick despatch of sorting and delivering the mails. Thirty-seven bags were received per Australia. Island mails were put aboard the Mikahala, Kinan and Likiep before 6 p. m., the steamers having delayed departure for the comfort and profit of the Molokaians, Lanaians, Mauians, Hawaiians and Kauaians. The city delivery was well closed out at an early hour in the night.

The Australia had a very rough seven days' passage to the Coast. On the fourth day out a northwest gale began blowing, which continued till the coast was in sight. Thirty feet of the port rail was washed away. Water flooded the purser's room, setting everything afloat and sad to relate, carrying away the Honolulu exchanges. The strong contingent of Portuguese excited much interest on arrival.

H. B. M. S. Caroline made 4,000 miles in her recent voyage annexing Fanning, Christmas and Penrhyn islands to the British Empire. She left here with a store of 400 tons of coal, of which she had fifty tons remaining on return. The island of Penrhyn is the most important of the acquisitions. It has a lagoon as capacious as Pearl Harbor, with soft coral bottom easily amenable to dredging. There is a considerable native population on Penrhyn.

Mr. J. N. Robinson, who is practicing the art of painting in Tavernier's studio, Spreckels' block, indicated to a GAZETTE reporter, a day or two ago, that he had something to show him. The reporter having found his way under convoy of Mr. Robinson to the aforesaid studio, soon found himself in front of a fine new painting of the surface of the burning lake of Kilaua as it appeared previous to the falling in of 1886. The work is one of excellent execution and highly creditable to the youthful artist.

MISSIONARY LOGAN DEAD.

Other Notes from the Micronesian Islands.

Rev. A. O. Forbes received letters from Micronesia by way of San Francisco. Rev. R. W. Logan, missionary of the American Board, died of fever at Ruk on the 27th of December. Mrs. Logan and son will arrive here by the missionary vessel Morning Star now daily expected.

The Star left Kusaie for the western part of Micronesia on the 12th of January.

Word had been received from Rev. Mr. Doane at Ponape, Caroline Islands, reporting the missionaries there all well. Everything was quiet, the Spanish authorities having made no trouble since last previous advices.

The Reformatory School.

This useful institution was visited recently by a GAZETTE reporter to see what there was new or of public interest in connection with it. The school, some two years ago, on the resignation of Mr. Walter Hill, had a complement of about 50 boys, who were kept actively employed learning the rudiments of an English education and in the daily practice of productive manual labor. Owing to the appointment of a royal favorite to the superintendency and the withdrawal of a large detachment of the boys to help fill up the cup of the iniquity of the Mad Parliament and the Gibson Ministry in the Samoan fad and to man the "Conundrum," the school became depleted; magistrates and friends of the institution, and ceased to use it for the purposes for which it was founded. The Board of Education, of course, were handicapped in whatever measures they might be disposed to adopt for the efficiency of the school under the existing circumstances.

There are now eleven boys, ranging in age from five to fifteen years, in the establishment. Manual labor is engaged in during the fore part of the day and school work in the afternoon. The land, overrun by weeds while the authorities were looking after Samoan civilization, has been reclaimed, and is now under excellent cultivation as a vegetable garden. The boys, at the time of the reportorial visit, were engaged in breaking the sod on the corner of the lot, preparatory to planting an algerobia grove. The affairs of the institution are going on quietly and effectively. The superintendent is Mr. W. G. Needham and the assistant Mr. Henry C. Adams. These gentlemen are assiduously engaged in the performance, as Carlyle would say, of the duties that lie nearest to them.

Friend for April.

The April Friend has an article on the dead Kaiser in mourning lines, another on the liquor fraud trials, and a note on New England theology.

A very able and instructive paper, read by Hon. W. D. Alexander before the Social Science Association, is begun. It is entitled, "Ancient Systems of Land Tenure in Polynesia," and a merely cursory perusal convinces one that the paper would be a welcome addition to the records of any body of scientists in the world.

Rev. Thomas L. Gulick furnishes a discourse on religion and morality, and a deliverance of Prof. Huxley supporting the reasonableness of prayer is pointedly commented upon by the editor.

The Hawaiian Board's page, edited by Rev. A. O. Forbes, gives a goodly amount of fresh intelligence from the Micronesian missions, besides a note of progress regarding the Chinese mission on these islands. The Y. M. C. A. page, edited by the General Secretary, Mr. Fuller, contains Association memoranda for the month and selections. A testimony to American missionaries is given in quoted letters from Charles Denby, United States Minister to China. This is an interesting number of the friendly periodical, attesting the qualities of Rev. Sereno Bishop as a live editor as well as able writer.

Pyburn Expected in San Francisco.

Wells, Fargo & Co., whose agent, Macfarlane, at Honolulu, was defrauded last month of about $3,000 by a clerk named Pyburn, have been on the lookout for some time for the arrival here of the bark Bryant, on which the fugitive is supposed to have made his escape from the islands.

Pyburn is a young man hardly over 20 years of age, who has a father, a doctor, practicing in Sacramento. He went to work for Macfarlane about eighteen months ago at a salary of about $90 a month. On that amount he could hardly keep up the life he led, gambling and revels, and he found himself finally in such a position that to escape his creditors he had to resort to flight.

Those who know the young fellow best state that he is too smart to have embarked on the Bryant for this city, but instead that he left Honolulu the same night the Bryant sailed but on a vessel bound for China.—S. F. Examiner.

Incendiary Fire Quenched.

Policeman Kaiapoepe went off duty at midnight of the 1st inst., and proceeded direct to his house at Palama. He lives in a lane on the town side of the former Kaai estate, mauka of King street, to the rear of a Chinese store fronting on that street. On turning in Kaiapoepe was startled with the sight of the back part of the store on fire. The flames were rising from the ground to the height of the windows. Quickly giving the alarm to the Chinaman sleeping inside, with his assistance the officer put the fire out. Two bottles that had contained kerosene oil were found close to where the fire had started, thus giving ground for the firm belief that an incendiary was the author of the flames. Had it not been for the timely discovery, a more tragic result than the loss of property would likely have happened.

Dividends.

The regular quarterly dividend upon C. Brewer & Co's stock is now due and payable at the office of the company.

At the same office is also due and payable a dividend of one dollar per share upon the stock of the Hawaiian Agricultural Co.

And at the same place a dividend of eight dollars per share is due and payable to the stockholders of the Wailuku Sugar Co.

That Aggravated Assault.

Daniel Bone, who got the ugly blow on the head Sunday morning, was released early on Monday and returned to his work at the Marine Railway. He was still unable to state who his assailants were. His cabin door was not broken in, as stated at first, so that its damage must have occurred in a struggle. Bone says that, contrary to his custom, he left his door open, and was attacked while reading. Blood stains were on the smaller piece of iron found on the premises.

Proposed New Church.

There was a large attendance of the Church and congregation in the parlors of Central Union Church, Wednesday evening, the Rev. Dr. Beckwith presiding and Mr. Jonathan Shaw, Secretary. The Charter and By-Laws of the united congregation were read and accepted.

On motion of Hon. A. F. Judd, seconded by Mr. P. C. Jones, a resolution was adopted that the Church and congregation proceed immediately to the building of a new church edifice. To carry out the intent of this resolution, the following committees were appointed:

Finance—Mr. J. B. Atherton, Mr. S. M. Damon, Mr. J. T. Waterhouse, jr. Sites—Mr. J. O. Carter, Mr. P. C. Jones, Mr. B. F. Dillingham.

Plans—Mr. C. M. Cooke, Mr. C. R. Bishop, Mr. Alexander Young.

The committee on Finance were, on motion, instructed to ascertain the value of the property of the congregation.

A meeting of the Church was subsequently held, at which an appropriation from the Sunday collections was placed at the command of the Standing Committee for benevolent purposes.

Educational Matters.

A meeting of the Board of Education was held on Friday, at which the newly appointed member, Mr. W. W. Hall, was present.

Mr. Amasa Pratt, who it was expected would take the principalship of the Government English School at Hamakua, Maui, has written by last mail to say that he is not coming, and it is probable that Mr. Edgar Zumwalt, at present at the Lihue school, on Kauai, will be appointed to the Hamakua school.

Mr. D. H. Kahaulelio has been appointed Government school teacher at Kalaupapa, on Molokai.

Additions to the school buildings at Hanalei, Kauai, have been authorized.

It was ordered by the Board of Education that all pupils attending Government day schools, conducted in the English language, shall pay tuition fees at the established rates, unless their names shall have been placed on the free lists, in the regular way, as being unable to pay.

The Debating Society.

Owing to several other attractions there was a smaller attendance than usual at the Debating Society on Thursday evening. Mr. Harry Byng led a good argument in favor of municipal incorporation for Honolulu. Mr. G. A. Neth presented a series of difficulties tending to prevent the success of civic government at the present time. Several other speakers supplemented the reasoning of the leaders in neat speeches. At next meeting Mr. W. H. Graenhalgh, of the San Francisco Argonaut, will read a paper on the Central American canal projects. Having been recently all over the ground in his journalistic capacity Mr. Graenhalgh may be expected to give an entertaining and instructive essay.

Complimentary Concert.

The Royal Hawaiian Band gave a complimentary concert at the Hotel Thurston night, in honor of Captain Howison and other officers of the U. S. F. S. Vandalia who are relieved and going away on Monday, and of Captain Dyer and officers of the U. S. S. Marion, about to sail for the Orient. There was a large and fashionable audience to listen to the superb music and enjoy Honolulu sociability on the electric-lighted grounds and verandas. The diplomatic and consular corps, together with officers of the warships in port, were there in goodly force. Lord Dalrymple and Sir William Wiseman were of the number.

Raid on a Gaming House.

Capt. Larsen on Wednesday night conducted a raid on a Chinese gambling den in Maunakea street, which yielded some lively business to the officers. The Captain had a narrow escape from getting his head cracked by a trap door suddenly sprung in his way. There was a stampede of the depizens to the street, where four of them were captured. Besides the impedimenta of a pakapao (lottery) game, the trophies of the raid included a horn of opium found on one of the gamblers' person.

Dropped Dead.

J. N. Huli, a native employed in the auction rooms of Mr. L. J. Levey, was noticed by Mr. Lederer at noon on 2d inst, to be lying face down over the head of a barrel, and when approached was found to be all but dead, his pulse being barely perceptible. About a minute later, he expired. He had been under medical treatment by Dr. Wood, from whom it was learned that he had had disease of the heart. Deceased was a steady, industrious man, about 40 years of age, and had been in Mr. Levey's employ ever since the latter commenced his present business. His residence was at Auwalolimu.

Upsetting Government Offices.

Offices in the Government building were being cleared out Friday afternoon, preparatory to the laying of new matting on the floors. It would have been an interesting item of news if there were only a cable to have announced to the sore-headed ex-political magnates of Honolulu, in San Francisco, that the Minister of Interior was "fired out" of his office on that day at noon. However, the Minister is perfectly "safe," and will be found in his official chair again in due time.

A Leprosy Specialist.

An item in the Japan news summary of a San Francisco paper is as follows: "Masanao Goto, whose experienced skill in curing leprosy is thoroughly known here, has been engaged by the Leprosy Hospital in Hawaii at $6,000 per year, and will leave for that country at the end of April." This is probably the elder Goto, whose son left here some months ago, after an engagement of a year or two by the Board of Health, to further prosecute his studies in England and India.

Saturday's Match.

A baseball match at the Makiki grounds on Saturday between a nine from the Vandalia and Adams and a nine of Honolulu players was one of the leading events of the day. There was a large attendance of spectators. The Honoluluans again carried off the honors of the field. Following is the score:

Not the Kind He Wanted.

An honest, but indignant Polynesian, meeting a reporter on the water front, Saturday afternoon, took the opportunity to exclaim against a piece of gross imposition alleged to have been perpetrated by a native woman selling akule on the previous day. The fish turned out to be bad. Complainant wanted the cake ventilated in the "nupepa." No doubt an inspector of fish, meat and other articles sold for food in this mighty metropolis of the Pacific is one of the officials that the oft-victimized consumer will be delighted to welcome.

The Weather.

"Smith's Weather Almanac" gives the following forecast for this week, the terms of course being designed for more northern latitudes than this: "Cool, with frequent showers. Fine. Stormy and unsettled, cold and wintry again. Showery, mild and springlike at close of week."
